WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

Major General Eugene A. Salet, USA (Ret.)
President, Georgia Military College

Dear General Salet:

STAT Thank you for your letter of 19 January to Lieutenant General Walters concerning [redacted] STAT General Walters asked that we respond to you immediately and explain the situation regarding our review of [redacted] [redacted] application.

STAT I am very sorry that we did not acknowledge your previous letter earlier. However, upon receipt of that letter we forwarded [redacted] application to interested Agency officials who might be able to take advantage of his background and experience. Regretfully, this search has taken a little longer than we had anticipated, and we still do not have a definite answer for him. We should let you know, though, that our hiring is extremely limited these days due to reductions in our personnel strength. Because of this limited hiring, I would also suggest that he write to the U.S. Civil Service Commission to inquire about opportunities that may be available in line with his qualifications.

STAT Again, our apologies, and we appreciate your writing to us. You may be sure that we will give [redacted] [redacted] every consideration and will expedite our consideration of his application. We will be in touch with him concerning the outcome as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

F. W. M. Janney
Director of Personnel

Dear Dick:

To somewhat clumsily paraphrase Lord Acton, high rank can create forgetfulness, but high rank that creates forgetfulness to the extent of ignoring one's friends and those who helped him achieve high rank is unconscionable. A very clumsy paraphrase indeed, Dick, but I am at a loss to understand why you have not acknowledged my letter of 1 October 1975. While I realize that you are a busy man, most busy men attend to their correspondence within a reasonable period of time. Now, consider yourself chastised and even though you are my senior in rank, I am your senior in seniority.

STAT Perhaps I did not make it clear that my interest in [redacted] is very real. I believe that the man has considerable talent. I am convinced that he is a dedicated citizen, as are most newly certified Americans. You and I have both known naturalized Americans who are shining examples of loyalty to country and dedication to its welfare.

STAT Dick, I would appreciate some kind of a signal from you as to whether or not there might be a possibility of bringing [redacted] into our Civil Service or whatever. His linguistic abilities and intelligence should prove of great value.

Warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

Eugene A. Salet

Dear Dick:

As baseiged as you and your agency are, I am going to ask you to take a few moments to review the enclosed resume' with the end objective of seeing if we cannot place this fine, talented individual somewhere in the international arena.

STAT

STAT

[redacted] is indeed a unique individual. I have known him for the past two years and have found that he and his wife are both highly intelligent, personable, dedicated, and industrious individuals. [redacted] was managing [redacted] where Irene and I live, when the State cracked down on the selling of hard liquor. This caused the club to go into a tail spin. Consequently, he is now on the job market and I must say that as good as he is as a Maitre D', the work can in no way challenge this man's many talents.

STAT

You will note from his vitae that he is highly educated and that his forte lies in languages, just as did yours until you broadened your spectrum of activities. In fact, this is the reason I am coming to you for help. I know that you appreciate language skills. More importantly I know that you also attach a great deal of importance to the intelligence that is necessary if an interpreter is going to be a truly knowledgeable, and effective, interpreter. As I have always said, and as have many others, your enormous strength in this area was to be found in not only your artistic skill with languages, but more so in your high intellect which enabled you to grasp the substance of the subject, and material, you were interpreting. [redacted] is, I am sure, of similar quality.

Just as an aside, I want you to know that many of us are aghast at the concentrated assault being made not only upon the CIA but upon all of our intelligence agencies by the do-gooders in Congress. While I think there have been some mistakes made, it is incomprehensible to me as to why supposedly intelligent, and surely loyal, Americans such as those that are supposedly found in the Congress, are hell-bent on this destructive path. I have taken pen in hand and am writing to a number of Senators and Congressmen expressing my deep concern.

STAT Dick, I would deeply appreciate it if you would do what you can to give guidance as to how best to move in the direction he has in mind. I should have mentioned earlier that what truly impresses me is his very obvious dedication, loyalty, and gratitude to his adopted country. When he talks about this, it rings true - there is great sincerity behind his words. I believe that he could fit in nicely in a mission, attache' office, or in the international arena in Brussels with the NATO Council.

Warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

Eugene A. Salet
